Plac Oregonian. PORTLAND, FRIDAY, MEPT 24, 1886.

THE COMING LEGISLATIVE SESSION The legislature meets at Salem on the first Monday in January. There is no sens or to elect, and for the first time since 1880 there will be a session for strictly legislative work Politics rarely cuts any figure in legislation in Oregon Party lines are never drawn excepting as to matters which relate personally to officials, so that it matters little practically that the reput so that it matters little practically that the republicane have a majority in both houses. This sit mation implies party responsibility without any chance of party advantage, and is rather favorable than otherwise to the minority. Differences in the legislature are common enough, but for the most part they are sectional and bear no re-lation to party policies. There is always the distinct interest of Eastern Oregon, the distinct sterest of the Wilametta valley and the disides the sectional differences there is always a general division between the financial and corporate in-even supported by Port-land and the agricultural interes sup-ported especially by the Williame.te vallay is a singular characteristic of this lat ter division that the partisans of both sides are commonly more intense than intelligent and that they fight continually lover red rags of prejudice or a arm and rarely descend to the prezy business of reasoning calmy together. If they did we should have less of a d spute which always many the barmony and burts the unefalness of legislative sees lone and limits put-lic respect and confidence in our legislative body Many important matters which have been put side by recent legislatures, devoted as they have been to senator making, will come before the session of this w nten. The assessment laws are crying for reform. The commission created by the last legislature has submitted what come to us as an admirable eyetem, not alto gether faultless but far better then our present laws of taxation which are difficult of compre-bension, inconsistent with each other and wrong in principle, forming a series rather than a sys rtionment of the state for legislative purportionment of representatives is grossly of just. It was made to 1870 upon the basis of population at that Under it the older counties of the Wills mette valley are inrgely over-represented, while the new counties of Eastern Oregon, with Multnomah and Claisop, have not their just propor-tion. Action on this subject has been postponed three or four times, clearly in violation of the bings in the existing constitution obsolete or inconsistent and impracticable, and the progress of the state since 1855 has made a vast difference its requirements. Many changes are desira-e, and it is to bring these about at once that in new constitutions, and it is usually best to make haste slowly in matters of state govern dered in the house and lost by a single Besides these subjects of legislation there will be the railroad question, the liquor ques-tion and a host of local matters. It is true for messures. The inw makers of the state ought to have some kind of counsel from their consti ients. As usual, THE ORE COMIAN Stands ready

CUPSING HIS ONN NO A

The smoke of the Maine battle has cleared away sufficiently so that it is plain that Blatne's conduct of the campaign has not weakened Cleveland, while Blaine has bimself not e Caped without some conspicuous wonnis, which were not all self indicted. His friend Scoator Frys was very studid when he compared Haine s mugwamp critus to a man, who, see ing a beautiful woman in a beautiful dress which was spotiess, save a drop of link on its hem, could remember a thing but the link spot. And Blaine a frient, extor Long, of Massa chasetis, was even more stupit than trye, when spenking of the Pan blectric telephone matter he said the scandal was so great that in comparison "the Mulligan letters are but the shadow of the fringe upon the myth of a suspition." The mugwamp critics were of curse able by reply that if Mr. Garlant in had prepared a letter for Mr. Rogers to sign, containing an untruth about the connection with the telephone, then Mr. Garlant and Mr. Baine would be both aine s mugwamp critus to a map, who, see then Mr Garland and Mr Baine would be both rocking in the same fruit hoat on the same tur butent sea but as Mr. Garland did not prepare any such letter the language of troy long was met serious blunder, in political tartics, made by Mr. Blaine in the recent capvass was his discussion of the suppression of the suffrage at the South. The blunder consisted in this that, granting the absolute trath of all that he asserted concerning the outrageous wrong upon suffrage committed at the South, nilble for it, who was more helpless to suggest a remedy than Mr Blains when he and his party were in power? Mr Blaine admits the the greenst at nown:

canvass against the ballot-box, who left the spaker's chair and led the republican faction that helped the democratic minority in the house defeat that bill? It was James G Baine and from that hour free sufrage at the South was doomed to death. Grait had done his whole duty, but when he found the re-publican house under the leade ship of Speaker Blaine would no longer furnish the executive with appropriate and necessary legislation to re-pulse the attack of banditti on the ballot box. he, like a sensible man, told Hayes when he came in that he had better withdraw the bayonets from the Softh, since the republican p rty by its refusal to faruleb him with const. utlocal legislation to enfurce free elections, surrendered to the shoteum canvass, and that it was worse than needees to keep bayonets, at the polls in time of peace with no law belind them i or the present situation at the South, which dates back to the defeat of the force bill, M. THE TRUE ETPLANATION

A correspondent in The Original of the 2rd inst undertook to explain Gerrit Smith's repudiation of prohibition by assuming that he was so devoted to the "grann oid party" that he could not stab it even for temperance t is not necessary to make any absurd assumptions for the great abolitionist and reformer for here is

Government is to leave large lath ude of conduct Government is to leave large lathtude of conduct to indiv duals and families. In many a private dwelling theme is lewdness in many there is gambling and in many there is families not call for exercise government must not enter them to suppress these vices. These cases do not call for coercion, but for moral influence. Government owes nothing even to the great and sacred clause of temperance. The only ald that cause can legit mately desire from it is what is incidenta to the faithful axet of government is mately desire from it is what is incidental work of government in protecting person and property. The friends of temperance are very and property. The friends of temperance are very numerous and very honest. They have failed in their political action simply because they have grasped at too much and expected more from government than it has the right to render. Government will never prohibit all traffic in intosteating drinks. It will never be gui ty of such an invasion of the domain of individual liberty. The prohibitionists are extremists. They would not so much as let the houses life make her keg of currant wine Let the friends of temperance be content to ask of experiment only so one in as government has the right to giant. Let the temperance men came to getter on this are around and stand to be at the lettin and the we extone to make

A Very Important Point

Boston Journal

Ti ird party leaders tell us that "the republican party was once a small and deeplased third party hat it grew into a second party, then into the first, and that the present third party is on the saile read to success and glory." They omit ne important fact—that the democratic party split at the tharleston convention in 1400, and bus let the republican party into power, even with a minority vote. "Without that split," it has been well send, "the republican party might have been struggling on to-day, but never in power, and slavery would still have its head upon the nation." The third party now propose to invert this process? They would a slit the republican party and let the democrate into power. Then the democrate and whisky would be in I ower indepinitely.

Just the Fact.

Just the Pact.

Those whose object is absolute probinition, immediate or utilinate, night as well betake themselves to the prohibition party at once, for it is morely certain that the republican party will in it is that ground, and can not do so, without reducing itself to a hopeiess minor by

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

The Estions of Europe at the Mercy of Three Dos pots-Gieomy Outlook for Preedom

The New York Tribune's representative at London has obtained the following statements regarding the Bulgarian complication from the historian, Edward A Freeman

historian, Edward A Freeman

The late events in Bulgaria show how deep is the jealousy with which the despotic powers of hurope look at anything which may give strength to any of the struggling nations. It will be remembered in how many ways the car showed his anger at the union of norther and southern Bulgaria—the inter the East-tia Rounella of diplomatists—and the strange outtreak of rage into which Francis Joseph, of Austria, allowed himself to be hurried. Writtever may be the gealouses between the two, it does not suit the purposes of either that any of the smaller powers should have the chance of Frawing strength from union and independ of the smaller powers should have the chance of frawing strength from union and independ etce. Feeple talk gibby of Austria going to Salonica as if it were a kind of bolidar exchange in They forget that it means the crushing of the hopes of three nations—Greece, Servia and Bulgaria.

The givet powers have their jeauousies am aghemetrical So have the smaller ones. The bemeelers So have the smaller ones. The ill feeling between there and Bulgaria is the chief difficulty and danger of the whole matter. The hope of the southeastern lands her in friendly relations among the liberated half us-nicions, if not the inter absorption, at least the united disunton and weakness of all. It is in deed by the disunton and weakness of all. It is in deed by the disunton and weakness of antions that the highran power—not a nation, but a mere family estate—exists at all Russia, on the other hand, is a national power and has the strength of one. The natural sympathes of the Russian government, will always be for any Slatonic and orthodox nation. But it is doubtlessessy in Russia, as it is in Ragiand so to statematters as to awaken unreasonable national pealousies. The action of Inigaria may be as spoken of as to seem ungrateful to Russia, a power from which we must not forget that Bulgaria has received red and great benefits.

It is quite possible then that, besides the poesett inreation of the czar, popular feeling in Russia may this time be against Bulgaria. But we must remember that as Russia is a nation, a just and generous policy on her part is not like possible, while such policy is hardly conceivable on the part of the Austran power, which represents only the interests of a single family at the moment. Any advance of freedom or union is distasteful to be ho powers alike. The only possible of the part sate of things may cause the long smouldering entity to burst into a flame, Germany, on the other hand, would seem to have no lumediate interests which need clash with those of the southeastern nations. There have no infinediate interests which need class with those of the sontheastern nations. There is, however, the national III feeling between greeks and Slavs, stronges! among those won are resulty of slavont descent, and it may not suit the possessors of Possia and North Sleswick to encourage national movements anywhere As long as Prince Blemarks, from whatever motive, takes the house of Austra, its chief and his dominions under his somewhat condescend its nationage, as long whatever depleases that house or thwaits its policy cannot be acceptable at Berlin for the moment.

The Southeastern nations have three great gowers which are nearest to been and a signise them. It is hard to see how the three ree nations of Western Europe—England, France and Italy—have any direct interest in the matter. The superation that England has any interest in superation that the sail holds in hondage, is as absurd as it is immoral. But margument will get it out of those beas of which it has once taken possession. The only question is whether the Turk is now their worst enemy. It would be easier to turn him out of Salonga. worth blinking whelt er either an Austran occupation of 'salonica or a Russian occupation of costanthoppie might not really be the inter-tep to the splitting up of these powers. If the family estate of I rands Joseph were extented to the Eigean it might prove too large and too addly formed and shaped for blin to keep it together, and it may be doubted whether either constantnople can be ruled from St. Petersburg or St.
P-tersburg from (constantinople costs attinople has been an important city from its birth, of the one hand, can it ever be anything evec
On the other, could geography allow it, to become the center of the power of Russian?
The outlook is very gloomy. The chances of freedom, do not wholly on the will of the les petic powers. That fact must be looked in the face. Salessman as a rule care little for the freedom of other nations, and they are certainly not become as a rule to sacrifice the welfare of their own country to maintaining it. Still, it is as well that both statesmen and others is pit, we chartly what the state of the case is. The freedom and a roress of the large states. Its as well that both statesmen and others should be clearly what the state of the case is. The freedom and progress of the lands attractly delicer d, the hopes of the lands still in bon lage, chend upon the will of two powers, which have—one on abiling, the other an immediate—it creat in landeding their freedom and progress, and their only hope seems to be in the lith offly which those two powers must find in a precing on any common scheme against them

WASHIN TON, Sept 12 four Up to this time the reports from the 325 congressional districts in dicate that not over one-half of the members of the present house of representatives will be reciected this fail. The figures at the two non gressional campaign committee headquarters show that the ratio of returned members will be even less than one-half. Secretary McPherson of the republican committee thinks there will be a very great transformation in the next house. The changes are nearly all confined to the distificts which have been represented without thange from one to three terms. Nearly all of the old members—those who have been in the house for from cight to twenty pease—will be resolected. In fact, not over half a dazen of the older members will be kept at home. The last and south will teat in set of these Is the central, Western and forthern states the change will be sent for the daret mineral.

POLITICAL SOPES.

In Arkaneas the democratic judges of elec-tions take the ballot-boxes home with them and count the ballots at their leasure. Senator Fair of Nevada has made no move-ment in the senatorial contest in that state, and there is some doubt whether he proposes to try for a re-spection.

A $4000 office is the sop with which ex-Sens-A $4000 office is the sop with which ex-Senator Barnum of Connecticut is trying to placate a bostile democratic editor in that state who opposes Mr Barnum's candidacy to the senate Candidates for ongress in Obio will be questioned by a committee of the State Wool Growners' association as to their attitude on the question of rectoring the duty on wool, and supported accordingly.

The Galiveston Nrian's liberal enough to say of the Texas prohibition tacket that it is a "good ticket," every men on it a religious men," and it advises every one who believes in prohibition to vote for the candidates.

The third democrate are going to concentrate

The thic democrate are going to concentrate all their energies in trying to defeat Leutemant-Governor kennedy for congress, and so pupilsh im for adding in measting the four fraudilent senators from Haunton county

emators from Hamilton county

The Savancah News sums up the difference between the Northern and Southern prohibitionists as follows—In the North they are affer political power, with yhisky as an issue, while in the South they are only anxious to suppress the whisky traffic by the force of public sentiment. George I haple, democratic and greedback fusion candidate for governor of Michigan, says he regards the turnifas the foremost issue in the campaign. He declares himself as opposed to a protective tariff, and in liver of the unliquited coinage of gold and silver.

Thomas Enthman, one of the indicted 'boodle' aldermen of New York, has returned to his native German town, has remouned his American citizenship and set up in business. He writes pathetically to a New York friend and to "go into the alderman business, but to keep on salling heer."

J W I twkes, Ir, representing the J W I awkes Manufacturing company of Chicago, has piaced on exhibition in the window of Wodard, Clinked Co, corner First and Alder streets, a patent spring motor, used for running sewing machines, pleasure boats, lathes, primps, churns, and all light powers. This companion manufactures extensively revolving display churns, and all light powers. This company also manufactures extensively revolving display cases for all lines of goods, making the most attactive display known, as anything in motion catches the eyes and arrests the attention where all else fall. The power of this motor can be increased at will simply by the application of an increased number of appings, and with the use of the air governor any speed that my be desired. J. W. Fawkes, the Inventor, was for a cily known as the stem plowman of 1851. Woodaid, Clarke & Co have secured the agency.

The Biggest Pension Fver Paid

I of Isviiik My, Sept. 15—The largest pension two paid at the United States was paid at the United States was paid at the United States pension often here to day by Pension Agent Buell to Marius D. The pension dated back to that year, and amounted to $11,500

Money and Rusiness

Money and Rusiness (Chiergo Journal)
It is evident that the abundance of money is geing into act we business, because the Sales of high pinced sequenties, such as hape a long time to run and bear an average rate of i per cent in terest, are limited in number and amounts. Those having money can do better with it in regular business ways than to lock it up in tends and shares that pay low rates of interest and ordinary dividents.

This Beats Portian I.

If the respectable republican taxpayers of this city had the power to nominate their party's candidate for mayor this fall he could be elected and the threatening danger of a new era of Tammany would be averte! But the nominating machiners is absolutely in the hands of disreputable trading politicians, whose custom it is to nominate a "dummy candidate, extort from him a liberal "assessment for the benefit of their private pockets, and then beiny him at the police by causing their creatures to vote for Tammany's nominee
